SECUNIA PRIVACY POLICY

1. Responsibility of Data

- 1.1 This website is owned by Secunia ApS, CVR. No. 26 83 33 45 (hereinafter referred to as "Secunia"). Secunia gathers information on users visiting Secunia's website.
- 1.2 This privacy policy (hereinafter referred to as "Privacy Policy") includes information on (i) how Secunia gathers information and (ii) how Secunia treats the personal information collected.

2. Scope

- 2.1 This Privacy Policy applies to all of Secunia's websites, except for the websites hosted by third parties on behalf of Secunia.
- 2.2 This Privacy Policy applies to all users who visit Secunia's websites.
- 2.3 This Privacy Policy applies when Secunia gathers, uses, discloses, or retains personally identifiable information; or when changes occur in the processes and procedures for collection, use, disclosure, and retention of personally identifiable information.

2.4 This Privacy Policy refers to the processing of all personal data, wholly or partly, by automatic means, and also refers to the processing of personal data made through other means, which forms part of a filing system or is intended to form part of a filing system.

3. The Purpose of Gathering Information

- 3.1 This Privacy Policy seeks to protect the personally identifiable information of the users of Secunia's websites, which is in Secunia's possession at any given time.
- The collected information is of importance in order to fulfil the objective purposes as stated in clauses 4.2, 4.3, and 6. Secunia will not gather or register information that is not necessary for the fulfilment of the purposes stated in clauses 4.2, 4.3, and 6.

4. Collection of Personal Information

- 4.1 Secunia may collect information about the user, including (i) country, (ii) name, (iii) title, (iv) company, (v) company's e-mail address, (vi) personal e-mail address, and (vii) phone number.
- In order to analyse user behaviour and characteristics, Secunia records standard technical information, such as (i) the IP address of the user's computer, (ii) browser software, (iii) the user's operating system, and (iv) the referring site.
- 4.3 Cookies are used to track the user's behaviour at the site and to provide an enhanced user experience. Cookies are also used in connection with any service requiring authentication. Certain functionalities may not be available if the user disables cookies on his/her browser.
- 4.4 Personal identifiable information submitted whilst visiting Secunia's website is stored in cookies in order to optimise communication to users.

5. Disclosure of Personally Identifiable Information to Third Parties

5.1 Secunia will not disclose any personally identifiable information to any third party unless the user has given his/her prior consent hereto, in accordance with the Danish Act on Processing of Personal Data, which allows disclosure of the gathered information following the user's consent.

6. Use of Personal Data

- 6.1 Personal information is used primarily to complete the service for which the personal information is collected.
- Additionally, the information is used internally by Secunia in order to become better acquainted with the user.
- 6.3 This use may include studies and analyses directed at improving Secunia's products, services, and technologies.

7. Changes in the Processing of Personal Data

- 7.1 The rapid development of the Internet means that changes in Secunia's processing of personal data may be required.
- 7.2 Therefore, Secunia is entitled to update and amend its Privacy Policy regarding processing of personal data. If Secunia does change its Privacy Policy, Secunia must state the date when the policy was last updated at the end of the last page in the Privacy Policy. In the event of significant changes made to the Privacy Policy, Secunia will notify users in a visible notice on Secunia's websites, and the users will be instructed in how to unregister the personal information.

8. Storing Information

8.1 The data collected by Secunia will not be kept for a longer period than what is necessary to fulfil the purpose for which the data was processed.

9. Protection of Personal Information

- 9.1 According to the Danish Act on Processing of Personal Data, personal information is to be stored in a secure and confidential manner. Secunia stores the personal information provided by users on computers which have limited access and which are located in controlled facilities. Secunia also regularly carries out checks to ensure that Secunia's personal user information is handled securely and continuously to protect the user's rights, according to the Danish Act on Processing of Personal Data.
- 9.2 However, Secunia cannot guarantee security for data transmission via the Internet. This means that there is a risk that other persons may gain unauthorised access to personal information when data is transmitted and stored electronically. Therefore, although Secunia strives to protect users' privacy in the best possible way, Secunia cannot guarantee the security of all information.

10. Marketing

Any e-mail lists and marketing activities operated by Secunia are opt-in/optout compliant. If, for any reason, users cannot opt-out or Secunia continues to send e-mails and marketing material by mistake after the user has opted out, users must contact marketing@secunia.com and ask to be placed on Secunia's "block list". Secunia will then make sure that the user is manually removed from Secunia's mailing lists.

Version 2, Copenhagen, 6 July 2012